

A Note from the Teacher

January 9, 2012

Hello parents,

It was a quick but fun week for the kids. They loved coming back on Wednesday and telling me all about Christmas, their presents, trips and all the fun things they did while out on break.

We started on the letter N this week and will finish on Monday. Circle time included the Letter N book, The Snow Child, and thinking of letter N words. We also did some alphabet and number review, as well as our workbook pages for the letter N. We will finish those on Monday as well.

To continue working on our handwriting skills, we will be practice writing our numbers. Each month I will print out a calendar and the children will practice writing the numbers on the calendar. Friday we decorated our January calendar with snowflakes. I will send the completed calendars home at the end of the month.

On Wednesday, Pastor Kevin talked about when Mary and Joseph took Jesus to church for the first time. And Friday was computer day....the kids love going to computer!

Hope you all had a great weekend and see you Monday morning.
